

Policy on Responsible Advocacy

TNPL being one of the leading and respectable paper producers in the country has always been at the forefront of reaching out to the stakeholders who matter, not only to the Company but also to its peers through industry bodies and associations in advocating on topics that can create a “Safe and Sustainable” paper industry.

TNPL engages with industry bodies and associations to influence public and regulatory policy in a responsible manner. At all times, TNPL shall ensure influencing in public and regulatory policies. Advocacy activities are conducted in an ethical and responsible manner.

Since TNPL belongs to a sector that largely depends on natural resources such as wood and water, it proactively supports discussions on sustainable ways to manage and use them. To ensure socio-economic growth of the local community where TNPL’s major operations are functioning, it strongly advocates the concept of inclusive development in different fora. It also promotes the adoption of best practices among its peers from different sectors.

TNPL also supports the cause of energy security. It has always been an advocate of sustainable development and endorses initiatives that help the industry in aligning with sustainability concepts.
